Harrison's Sentiments.

Cleveland is endured by his party and suffered to maintain his prominence as being the one man in it who holds out any hope of victory. He has no personal following. He says and does nothing to warm the heart or win anything like cordial allegiance. He will be voted for by the Solid South, as they would vote for a painted signboard if it would give them power and defeat the Republican party.

How different is the position of General Harrison, says the Oakland Times. Since his nomination he has been repeatedly called upon for impromptu addresses by all classes of citizens, and in every instance has not only acquitted himself with credit, but has won the devotion of his hearers. Read this for example where he speaks of home as the source and fountain of civil government:

"The home is the best, as it is the first school of good citizenship. It is the great conservator and assimilating force. I should despair for my country if American citizens were to be trained only in schools, valuable as is their instruction. It is in the home that we first learn obedience and respect for law. Parental authority is the type of beneficent government. It is the home that we learn to love, in the mother that bore us that which is virtuous and pure."

(Applause.)
 I take more pride in the fact the Republican party has always been the friend and protector of the American home than in anything else. (Applause.) By the beneficent Homestead Law it created more than a half million of homes; by the Emancipation Proclamation it converted a million cattle pens into homes (applause), and it is still true to these principles that will preserve contentment and prosperity in our homes.

Whether regarded merely as a political move or an evidence of honest interest in the welfare of the coast, the House did well in passing the Chinese exclusion bill so promptly. The Senate cannot do less than act in union. The Democrats will find considerable difficulty in explaining why they did not adopt the same measure three years ago and why the administration committed the folly of resorting to treaty stipulations. The facts undoubtedly are that the administration knew little and cared less for the needs of this coast until the proximity of the election brought home to it the need of immediate action. It has acted and acted well. As a political move it will carry little weight but as an evidence that the time for shilly-shallying over the Chinese problem is passed it is the most cheerful news that has come from Democratic Egypt.

People in this world dislike vacillation and indecision in a man even more thoroughly than they do mistakes. Congressman Emmet of Pennsylvania has found this out to his sorrow. He has represented his district eight years in Washington and always agreed with Sam Randall in his tariff ideas. On the final passage of the Mills bill, however, he voted for it without having ever made a speech or given any reasons for his change of heart. His constituents have just tendered the nomination to some one else.

Daniel Webster once said, in commenting on the history of the Union, that "the protection of American labor and industry was the leading motive for the formation of the new Government." The same reason still exists for cherishing it, and the free traders cannot persuade the people to accept the Confederate view that the best government is the one which does not reduce wages and increase the market for foreign goods.

Mrs. Josephine Tobin, a handsome widow of Potsdam, N. Y., died the other day after declaring that she was poisoned by a Miss Clay, employed in a millinery establishment of which Mrs. Tobin was Superintendent.

The Terrys Still in Jail—The Retaliation Bill in the House—Miscellaneous.

THE RETALIATION BILL.

The President's Latest Move Discussed in the House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—In the House to-day, in discussing Scott's Retaliation bill, Phelps cheerfully conceded the President the additional power he asked for, but regretted that there was no more likelihood that he would use this power than that he would use the power given him eighteen months ago. Nobody supposed that the powers granted then were not all that were necessary until August 23, when the President went out alone and shot the rocket of his Presidential message into the clear and peaceful air. It was so clear that the Senate chamber is still echoing with the voices of Presidential Senators urging their fellows to come and buy rights which Canada refused to give. He charged the President with heaping favors on Canadian shippers by land and sea in order that they might compete with their American rivals. The President was now the President of the message, not the President of the treaty. He was no longer Governor General of Canada; he was President of the United States, and the past would be forgiven.

In the course of his remarks Phelps referred to the definition made by O'Neill of Missouri that the President's message was a great campaign document.

O'Neill—Don't you think it is? Phelps—I do, and the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. McCreary) said that the message ought to be kept with the free-trade message.

McCreary—I did not say that that message should stand with the free-trade message, for I deny that the President has sent to Congress any free-trade message.

Phelps said the gentleman had said in reference to the two messages to which he (Phelps) had alluded, that "the two messages ought to stand together as Siamese twins of the Presidential policy."

Belmont said the President had bravely and well performed his duty to guard and protect the rights of American citizens and to maintain the dignity and honor of the nation. Said he: "We are not Democrats, nor Republicans, when confronted with unfriendly acts of a foreign power."

Davis of Massachusetts said the rejected treaty surrendered the New England fisherman naked to his enemies. It was part and parcel of a free-trade conspiracy which was inaugurated in the White House and continued in the House of Representatives, and which sought to prostrate American industry and improvement and degrade American labor. The utterances of the President, in opposition to the entire policy of his administration, would not command the confidence of the country. The Irish class would indignantly resent the idea that this sham menace of opposition to Great Britain and Canada, closing a career of interrupted and shameful surrender and subservience to both, was earnest, and thousands of them had decided to cast their lot with the Republican party.

Scott said the United States asked for nothing but what belonged to it by right under treaty, and it would accept nothing less. He had secured official data to show the number of Canadian and of American cars and weight of their contents transported in bond from one point in the United States through Canada to another point in the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1887. The gross money value of this transportation to Canadian railroads was at a low estimate $6,000,000. When it was considered that the steel rails over which this immense tonnage was transported in Canada were not subject to a duty of $17 per ton, and that the labor employed in its transportation paid no taxes into our treasury and did not consume the products of our farmers, the injustice to our wage-workers would become apparent. For this injustice the Republican party was responsible.

Pending the conclusion of Scott's remarks the House adjourned.

Terry Wants Damages.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—R. Porter Ashe, Judge Terry's law partner, filed a suit on Terry's behalf in the Superior Court, this county, this afternoon, against United States Marshal J. C. Franks for $10,000 damages for alleged false imprisonment in confining him for three hours.

Superior Judge Wallace, issued an order to take the testimony of Justice Field, as he is about to leave the State and will not be here at the time the case against Franks is tried.

Henry W. Stehman, of Lancaster, Pa., picked a pimple on his hand with a pin and died a few days afterward in great agony.

BLAINE'S CRITICISM.

The Point Made on the President's Free-Trade Views.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The September number of the American Magazine is published to-day and contains Blaine's article on "The President's Error." Blaine says, after criticizing Cleveland's use of statistics: "Not to go into useless detail, it may be safely asserted that every class which the President has placed in the list of those unaffected by tariff reduction would, in fact, be immediately affected thereby, sometimes directly, and sometimes indirectly, and often disastrously. The entire argument of the President is based on the old and often refuted Democratic argument that the tariff only helps those engaged in protected industries, and that it is injurious to all outside of that number. The opponents of Protection refuse to see the remarkable interdependency of industries which constantly grows closer in every community and every State, and which may be seen throughout the Union in harmonious adaptation and effective co-operation."

Blaine also says: "The farther the President goes in the direction of the doctrine laid down in his message the more direct and deadly is this assault on the whole organization of American industries. It would have proved advantageous to the President and assuredly have been interesting to the people if he had caused an accurate official inquiry to be made into the close connection of transportation and manufacturing interests, and as to how both in turn are indissolubly linked with agricultural interests to the great profit of all three. The very figures which the President quotes prove the immense home market is a boon to the farmer, while its diminution would be his direct and irreparable loss." Blaine also thinks the President should have extended his inquiries to the working classes.

ROASTED.

Cleveland Done to a Turn by a New Hampshire Man.

CONCORD, N. H., September 4.—The Republican State Convention to-day listened to a fierce attack on Cleveland by Haynes, who presided. Haynes' address was mainly devoted to the discussion of the working of the Civil Service Act in New Hampshire. He said that "under the system commissions have been issued by Justices of our Criminal Courts, and the appointees have, as a rule, been employed in the manufacture of bedsteads. Murderers (who occasionally find their way to the scaffold in this State) are probably no better and no worse than the two who have been commissioned by Cleveland to assist in his great work of reforming the Government. Forgers inside the walls of our prisons are probably quite as accomplished gentlemen as men who have been appointed by Cleveland. For every known and convicted criminal today held by yonder prison, we can name his counterpart in crime nominated to public office by the President. There are murderers and forgers, robbers and thieves, embezzlers and wife beaters, bribers and blackmailers, and so on through the list, and they numbered at the last count 218, with several back districts to hear from. Several ballots for Governor were taken. Four of the highest votes on the first ballot were: Tuttle, 209; Smith, 187; Goodell, 121; Melcher, 68. The third ballot failed of selection. Six candidates were voted for.

THE TERRYS.

The Fiery Judge and Sarah Alcott Still in Jail.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Terry are still in jail over in Oakland. Terry says that he never heard of so heavy a sentence as six months for contempt of Court, and recalls that in 1850 Justice Field himself was punished for contempt of the Court of Judge Turner, and that at the next session of the Legislature the Justice secured the passage of a law making the extreme penalty of contempt five days' imprisonment or $50 fine. Terry also says that he is anxious to see Field, adding, sentimentally, "to have a talk with him." Mrs. Terry seems to be cheerful enough, but her robust husband is chafing under the restraint put upon him. The couple have their meals brought in to them from a French restaurant, and have all the other luxuries that a jail possesses except the priceless boon of liberty.

Terry says that he has no doubt the State Supreme Court will liberate him and Mrs. Terry. He declares that he will proceed under the judgments rendered in favor of his wife by the State Court regardless of the decisions of the United States Court.

A Canadian Opinion.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 5.—Senator Scott, late Secretary of State, says the claim of the Dominion Government to joint ownership of the St. Clair Flats Canal, rendering retaliation there impossible, is absurd. Even if Canadian territory was encroached on, it was with tacit consent, and in signing the Washington treaty of 1871 the Dominion substantially conceded the United States the right to control the canal.

Henry J. Forrester, a log-cutter for Wright & Co. at Sisson, Cal., attempted suicide on Monday by taking a dose of laudanum. The cause was disappointment in love. His condition is critical.

POLITICAL.

Prohibition Party Charged With Stabbing Republicanism in the Back.

FARMINGTON, Maine, Sept. 6.—Blaine had an audience of 5,000 here yesterday, including many wool-growers. His speech was well received. He criticized the President's free trade message and the Mills bill. In reference to the Prohibition party, he said that Maine had been thirty-seven years under prohibitory laws, and the State was better for it; but the National Prohibition party is entering into a partnership to elect that saintly embodiment of temperance, David B. Hill, Governor of New York, and stab the Republican party in the back. The Republicans of Maine have worked many years to aid temperance reform, and will not turn back, but the immediate work of this year is to defend the Protective system.

The Pope.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The Chronicle's Rome correspondent says: King Leopold, through Cardinal Schiefelino, has offered the Pope a residence in Belgium in the event of the necessity arising for him to leave Rome. The Pope has had several audiences with the Russian envoy, and is completing a concordat with the czar giving a large share of religious liberty to the Polish and Russian Catholics.

Terrors of the Rail.

PARIS, Sept. 6.—Two express trains collided near Dijon yesterday morning, one from Marseilles the other from Turin, and both going at full speed. Twelve persons were killed and many injured. Several died before they could be rescued from the wreck. The locomotives and cars were piled up in a great heap.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

The Democratic State Convention of Connecticut yesterday nominated Judge L. B. Morris for Governor.

Three men were killed and several wounded yesterday by the fall of a railway embankment at St. Johnsbury, Vt.

The President has nominated Chas. E. Boyle of Pennsylvania to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Washington.

Julie List, of the Cincinnati Duckworth Building Association, is in hiding, having embezzled $20,000. When the shortage was discovered he attempted suicide.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Have you heard from Vermont? The Vermont farmers do not seem to be captivated by the President's tariff issue.

Civil service reform is now interpreted to mean twenty per cent. of the office-holders yearly salary.

Wages in England have declined 18 per cent. in five years. They will not increase until America returns to free trade.

Mr. Cleveland is the most expert acrobatic performer on the political trapeze that ever graced the presidential chair.

General Harrison's Fort Wayne speech, delivered Tuesday, is a model utterance. The further the campaign progresses the better the Republican candidate appears.

President Cleveland has invested $10,000 in a lottery with the hope of winning $50,000 a year for four years—total, $200,000. Ten thousand dollars gone up the flume.

Candidate Thurman is on his way to New York. If he delivers his own speech that has done duty in the West he will deserve the thanks of the Republican managers.

Colonel Briggs, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is trying to find out who permitted the secret of the receipt of President Cleveland's $10,000 check to get out.

In the last nine Presidential elections Indiana has been carried five times by the Republicans and four times by the Democrats. At the State election in 1886 the Republican majority was 3,324.

The outlook is good for the gain of three Republican Congressmen in Michigan. Two were gained at the last election, and, if the gains continue, Michigan's delegation will be as solidly Republican as it used to be.

REVIEWS.

Local and General Intelligence.

The Lake Tahoe tourist season is about over.

General Bob Clarke went to Carson on the noon train to-day.

The east-bound passenger train was over five hours late this morning.

Mrs. L. J. Flint departed this morning for a two month's visit to Arizona.

John Kelly, the Bodie mining man, passed through to San Francisco last evening.

Kila Gardner has commenced suit in the District Court for a divorce from John Gardner.

J. R. Vail and wife of Fort Churchill passed through last night en route to San Francisco.

The local train between here and San Francisco left here on its initial trip this morning.

Senator Evan Williams of Empire arrived from the eastern part of the State this morning.

Next Monday being a legal holiday in California the stock boards of San Francisco will not be in session on that day.

Fires on the stock ranges in North-western Montana and Northern Idaho have done an immense amount of damage.

In the District Court yesterday Mary Murray was granted a divorce from George C. Murray on the ground of desertion.

J. B. Pratt, a painter who formerly lived in Genoa, fell off a scaffolding at Sutter City on the 30th of last month and was killed.

The Opera House Dry Goods Store will be open from 7 A. M. until 9 P. M. from now until after the State Fair, Sundays excepted.

Colonel E. D. Boyle of Virginia, L. W. James of Gold Hill and Governor H. G. Blaisdell were passengers for the Bay last evening.

The delinquent tax suit of the State of Nevada against the Central Pacific Railroad will come up again in the District Court on the 24th instant.

The round-trip rate between Reno and Sacramento during the California State Fair is $9.40 instead of $7.05, as incorrectly stated in this morning's Journal.

Dr. J. L. Meyer will give an entertainment in character reading and mind or muscle reading at McKisick's Opera House this evening. Admission twenty-five cents.

Judge Bigelow this morning admitted Mons Nelson to citizenship. The new citizen lost no time in visiting Justice Young's registration mill and is now a full-fledged voter.

Dr. S. Middleton, a well-known physician of Bishop Creek, Inyo county, Cal., arrived in Reno last night and will depart in a few days for Sacramento to attend the State Fair.

The suit of the Found Treasure Company against the North Commonwealth to settle the disputed title to their ground in Tuscarora, is set for trial at Elko, October 1st, before Judge Rising.

The C. P. train was yesterday six hours late. Our business men have already ceased to swear. They feel that it is impossible to do justice to the style of railroading practiced by the C. P. folks.

HUMBOLDT COUNTY.

A Very Respectable Showing for a Desert Land.

Persons who roll through Humboldt county by rail, says the Virginia Enterprise, look upon the whole region as barren, save here and there an overgrown garden patch. Now, the report of the Assessor of that county to the Surveyor General shows Humboldt to be a flourishing ranching region.

There are 141,500 acres of land inclosed, 26,234 acres of which are under cultivation. The products for 1888 are as follows: Wheat, 200,000 bushels; barley, 375,000 bushels; oats, 20,000 bushels; potatoes, 12,400 bushels; hay, 200,166 tons; wool, 665,600 pounds, though about twice that amount has been shipped by rail out of the county.

In the way of live stock the county has 7,290 horses, 116 mules, 10 asses, 476 cows, 50,505 stock cattle, 85,000 sheep, 200 angora goats and 687 hogs. In the county are two reservoirs of the aggregate capacity of 876,000 gallons.

Draining Lake Tahoe.

The Truckee Republican of yesterday says: Some Reno ranchers went through this place yesterday bound for Lake Tahoe. Their teams were loaded with hay, grain, provisions, sufficient to last a month, and besides they carried, scrapers, shovels, picks, etc.

We are informed that their mission is to widen and deepen the outlet to the lake so that they can secure more water with which to irrigate their farms near Reno. While their object is a most laudable one, we will be surprised if the people in the vicinity of the lake will permit the work to go on.

The lake is now so low that the loggers and it is very expensive to float their logs. At the various hotels the water is so shallow that the wharves have just been extended at a great expense to the owners, and even now the steamer can barely land at Tahoe City.

To drain the lake another foot would cause many thousands of dollars damage to the Tahoe folks, many of whom are citizens of Nevada. The Reno folks should go slow.

Not a California Bear.

Anybody can catch a cold this kind of weather. The trouble is to let go, like the man who caught the bear.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

SUCCESSFUL OPENING OF ITS FALL TERM.

The Exercises Yesterday—A Flag Presentation—Pertinent Remarks by Governor Stevenson—Etc.

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock A. M. the students of the State University gathered in the library of the building and the reception parlors adjoining President Brown's office and after formally filling out the blank applications for admission and duly subscribed to the rules and regulations, counter-signed by the parent or guardian, were enrolled for the fall term. The forenoon was consumed in completing this work and receiving general instructions. As the attendance is larger than ever before, this required time and kept President Brown fully occupied. During the last term seventy-six students were enrolled, and while many of those are again in attendance, twenty-six new ones were added yesterday. This does not include the Model Class of twenty. The faculty were all present, and consist now of President LeRoy D. Brown, Professors H. K. Clapp, Walter McN. Miller, and D. H. Jackson and Wm. B. Daugherty, instructor in bookkeeping in the Business Department.

THE EXERCISES.

At 2 o'clock P. M. the large Assembly Hall was filled beyond its seating capacity with the students, their parents, friends and visitors; while on the platform sat the faculty, with members of the Board of Regents, consisting of Governor C. C. Stevenson, Hon. W. C. Doye and Hon. J. M. Dornier, B. F. Leete, Esq., and Mrs. Jennie Cutting, the latter representing the O. M. Mitchell Relief Corps No. 27.

After music by the choir, composed of lady and gentlemen students, President Brown, in a short address, outlined the proposed work for the term in the different departments. He then introduced Governor Stevenson, who, in a pleasant address, welcomed the students and the visitors present.

In the course of his remarks the Governor said:

"The University is to-day an established State institution, equipped with a competent corps of teachers. It is now in a condition to carry out the intent of the framers of our Constitution and the law of our Legislature. It has been the ambition of the Board of Regents to make this institution a credit to the State. It should be the policy of the Faculty to encourage the district and high schools, which, naturally, will be the source from which the University will draw many of its students.

A healthy rivalry between institutions of learning tends to stimulate competition, and puts both teachers and students on their mettle. In regard to the Normal Training School of this institution the law is very explicit, and its design is to educate our teachers to compete with graduates from other normal schools.

"The friends of the University should be proud of the advance made in the past year, and continue to lend a helping hand to aid in the success of our home institution. If the University has its enemies we can console ourselves with the thought that all progress has opposition, and the University will live long after its enemies have passed away and been forgotten."

A FLAG PRESENTATION.

At the conclusion of his speech the Governor introduced Mrs. Jennie Cutting, who, acting for the committee from O. M. Mitchell Relief Corps No. 27, surprised President Brown by presenting to the University a large American flag made by the ladies of the Relief Corps, expressly for this purpose.

Applause greeted the unfolding of the stately banner, and in fitting words President Brown accepted it, referring feelingly but modestly to his own humble efforts to uphold its glory on the battle field, a duty due at all times from every citizen of this favored land of liberty.

The choir then sang with spirit the "Star Spangled Banner," many in the audience joining.

Short addresses were then made by Regents Dornier and Doye, and by each of the faculty, after which B. F. Leete, Esq., delivered an address to the students.

The exercises closed with the singing of "America" by the choir.

The University opens under most favorable circumstances and the prospects are flattering for a prosperous career and an ultimate high standing among the educational institutions of the country.

Funeral of J. C. Hampton.

The funeral of the late J. C. Hampton took place yesterday afternoon in Virginia. The cortege was the largest ever seen on the Comstock, every available horse and vehicle being called into requisition. During the obsequies the business houses, including the banks and brokers' offices, were closed, and nearly all of the people of Virginia who could do so accompanied the procession to the cemetery or attended the services at the Masonic hall.

To Our Patrons.

Our place of business will be closed from Wednesday to Friday at 8 P. M. F. LEY & S. A.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver or blood. Only half a dollar a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

PEACE AT LAST.

The Indians of Plumas and the Washoes Bury the Hatchet.

There are four distinct tribes of Indians in Plumas county. Each one has its own chief, elected by a popular vote every two years. Formerly each tribe had its big medicine man, but of late years no brave could be found brave enough to accept the position, the Indian rule of "cure the sick or kill the physician" was a trifle too binding on the profession, and the office has long been vacant. In place of having the medicine man the sick are forced to console themselves with patent medicines, a la American man.

The members of the tribes are classified under the general designation of Digger Indians. In the days of yore the four tribes numbered several thousand, and there was a unwritten and mutual alliance or treaty between them, which united them in case of an attack or invasion by adjacent tribes. The Washoes and Plutes on the east, and the Pit River and Mill Creek tribes on the north, were their most dreaded enemies and dangerous foes. Many fierce and bloody fights have taken place between them. At one time, which, according to the information given to our reporter, says the Plumas National, by a well-informed and reliable native red son of the golden west, was in the year of 1847, the four tribes and the Washoes engaged in a long and disastrous warfare. The decisive battle took place in or near Mokaw Valley, near the flat where Gimletville now stands. It was a Waterloo to the Plumas forces. The Washoes captured and carried away about fifty dusky maidens. Since that time a feeling of revenge has animated the bare breast of the Plumas Diggers, as the records of the county will prove, the dead bodies of many a Washoe have been found in Beckworth and Sierra valley within the past thirty years, and no clue to the killers ever discovered. An attempt was made last year to start a treaty and smoke the pipe of peace between the tribes, which, we understand, was consummated last month.

AN EQUINE WONDER.

A Green Horse Which is Exciting the Interest of Horsemen.

The Sacramento Record-Union has the following to say of a horse which has been entered for the races at the Nevada State Fair: They have an equine wonder at Agricultural Park, and it is safe to say that no green horse has excited more interest among turfmen than he has since the time that Hot Eldred brought out Bay Frank.

He is known as Victor, and has been imported in the northern circuit and "taking in everything in sight." He went on the track at Glenbrook Park apparently an old broken down plug; his sulky was all patched up, his harness all pieced out, his driver apparently a greeny, his hair full of hay seed. In the first heat he came near being distanced, and then sold in the pools for almost nothing. The driver shook the hay out of his hair, picked up the old horse, and sent him for the second heat and distanced the whole field. He captured nearly all the money in the pool box, took the entire stake, and if he had been credited P. he could have got there in two minutes. The name of this horse is Victor. He is 5 years old, by Echo out of a thoroughbred mare, and was bred by W. Todhunter of this city.

No one seems to know how fast he can go, but there are a number of turfmen who claim that he can go away below 2:20, and think he can make a good race with Stamboul, Woodnut and Guy Wilkes. He will be speeded on the track at 9 o'clock this morning.

Grand Jurors Selected.

The following persons have been selected to appear Friday, to serve as Grand Jurors for the September term of Court: S. J. Hodgkinson, W. O. H. Martin, A. H. Manning, S. O. Wells, A. H. Barnes, W. L. Coffin, C. J. Brooks, H. J. Thyes, M. Nathan, Jean Thompson, H. Davis, C. W. Boston, L. L. Crockett, J. E. Shannon, W. M. Havenor, J. S. Shoemaker, M. E. Ward, W. H. Coughlin, Frank Bell, H. H. Beck, C. T. Bender, Geo. M. Humphrey, W. J. Luke and E. A. Moore.

A Reno Boy for West Point.

Colonel R. H. Lindsay this morning received a dispatch from Congressman Woodburn announcing that he had appointed Henry Cutting to a cadetship at West Point, to report there on the 15th of June next. The new appointee is one of Reno's most deserving young men, a student at the State University, and will conduct himself at the nation's training school with honor to himself and credit to his State.

A Saying of Twenty-Five Per Cent.

S. W. Boston, of the Opera House Dry Goods Store, has on hand a fine stock of blankets from $1.25 to $12.50 per pair. Will guarantee to save you ten per cent. on all goods, such as blankets, bed spreads, comforters, ladies and children's underwear, men's and boys' shirts. Call at a cash store if you wish bargains in anything in the dry goods line.

A Woman's Discovery.

"A woman's wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus wrote W. C. Hamrick & Co. of Shelby, N. C. Get a trial bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

Disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys can be cured by restoring the blood to a healthy condition, through the vitalizing and cleansing action of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the safest, most powerful and most highly concentrated alternative available to the public.

cured by adding the powder to be found in each bottle of Pryer's True Abietene Cough Balm. It contains no opium. Price 75 cents. Sold by Wm. Finniger. All genuine Abietene preparations bear the fac-simile signature of D. P. Pryer.

THE BOSTON STORE.

A Palace of Fashion—The Millinery and Dress-making Parlors of Mrs. M. J. Biggs.

Another elegant store has been added to the attractions of Reno, and an inspection of the Palace of Fashion fitted up by Mrs. Biggs in the Sheldon brick building, adjoining the McKisick Opera House, reveals what good taste and a judicious expenditure of money can accomplish in the hands of a lady skilled in catering to the dress and adornment of the gentler sex.

The parlors are centrally located in one of the most comfortable and substantial buildings in Reno, and consist of a large reception parlor, 25x40 feet in size, fitted up for the display and sale of goods, and made so inviting by its furnishing that it is a pleasure to linger within its walls. A rich Brussels carpet covers the floor, while upholstered easy chairs and stools add to the comfort of patrons while inspecting the rich stock of goods displayed in the show cases and cabinets around the room. Lace curtains and mirrors are skillfully arranged and add to the cozy comfort of the place, and a rich toned Steinway piano in an alcove invites the patron while waiting.

THE MILLINERY GOODS

Herein displayed are of the richest character, and the latest Parisian designs. The hat and bonnet trimmings comprise Birds of Paradise, feathers and flowers, moire velvets and French ribbons of all shades and colors, and wreaths of orange blossoms for coming brides. On the bonnet stands are displayed imported bonnets, trimmed in Paris in the latest designs, rich and tempting. A general stock of dress goods and trimmings fill the shelves and offer a rare opportunity to ladies in search of novelties in this line.

Opening from the front parlor is a handsomely fitted dress-making parlor, carpeted and furnished in home-like comfort, where dress making in the hands of skillful artists is conducted in quiet seclusion, while retiring rooms adjoining enable customers to be fitted at their leisure and absolutely free from intrusion. Tailor made suits are a specialty, and with the skillful artists in the employ of Mrs. Biggs, ladies can depend upon an artistic fit and thorough satisfaction, and there will be no need of going abroad for foreign modistes when such excellent facilities are furnished right at home.

Mrs. Biggs has spared no expense in fitting up this handsome establishment, and, having come to stay, will leave no effort undone to please and satisfy her customers. Her well-earned reputation can not be jeopardized, and hence none but good fitting garments can be sent out from her establishment, and ladies can come in confidence and rest assured of receiving perfect satisfaction.

In addition to the millinery and dressmaking, Mrs. Biggs keeps on hand for sale a large stock of

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

From the leading manufacturers, and offers the same on reasonable terms. All the fittings of this handsome establishment are now in place and Mrs. Biggs extends a general invitation to the ladies of Reno and vicinity to call and inspect the rich and cozy parlors and the rare stock of novelties therein displayed for sale.

Jockeys in Trouble.

Patsy Duffy, the celebrated jockey, now in the employ of Theodore Winters, is under arrest charged with having stolen a bottle of whisky valued at $2.50. As Duffy has been on a prolonged drunk, the authorities are of the opinion that his arrest is for the purpose of sobering him up in time for Fair week.

Frank Curtis (not the type), another jockey, in the employ of M. J. Phelan, is also under arrest, charged with stealing a pistol from his employer. This is also believed to be a drunken escapade.

Charles Brown, also a jockey, was fined $10 this morning by Justice Young for being drunk and disorderly.

Caught at Last.

M. Cooper, the genial proprietor of the Pioneer hotel, after years of freedom, is now a benedict, having been married by Justice Young last evening to Miss Mollie McKillop in the parlors of the hotel in the presence of a large number of friends. After the ceremony joy reigned supreme until the wee sma' hours, and congratulations were showered upon the happy couple.

To-day the happy groom sent a basket of champagne to the GAZETTE office with his compliments, and his good health and that of his bride were appropriately toasted by the entire force.

Death of William Steele.

A telegram received here to-day announced the death of William Steele, a well-known citizen and property owner of Reno, at Linkville, Oregon, last evening. Deceased was a brother of Robert Steele, the rancher, and father of Mrs. James Henley of this town. He will be buried at Linkville.

The Burned Snowsheds.

Owing to the recent rains along the line of the Central Pacific Railroad in the Sierra the company has lost about 3,000 feet of snowsheds, one section of 1,500 feet, another of 1,000 and another of 600. The damage, however, is not great, as the sheds destroyed were old and were to have been torn down. They will be rebuilt before winter.

A Nevada Boy Monored.

Luke Quinan of Virginia City yesterday received notice that he was elected District Deputy Grand President of the Young Men's Christian Institute for the State of Nevada by the Grand Council now in session in Stockton, California. It was a genuine surprise to the young man, as he had never even so much as thought of aspiring to the position.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY.

The value of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in the protection it affords from the dangers of pulmonary disorders, cannot be over-estimated. Mr. C. K. Phillips, Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "About three years ago I had severe Laryngitis, which resulted in chronic hoarseness. By the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral I have since entirely recovered my health." Mr. Henry Russell, Excelsior Printing Co., New York, writes: "Influenza became epidemic in my neighborhood. Several members of my family suffered severely with it, all of whom took Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and were cured by it in a few days. It is a wonderful medicine for Influenza. Too much cannot be said in its favor."

E. M. Sargent, 41 Andover st., Lowell, Mass., says: "I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral about the year 1842, as a family medicine, for Coughs and Colds, and have always kept it in my house since that time. I consider it the best remedy that can be had for these complaints." Dr. J. B. Robertson, Clayton, N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family and practice, for a number of years, and have no hesitation in recommending it. It is an admirable preparation, and well-qualified to do all that is claimed for it." E. J. Styrus, Germantown, N. C., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best Cough preparation I ever saw. It gives instant relief."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

has cured a Cough in a few doses. It always relieves irritation of the lungs or throat, and arrests the tendency to inflammation. It strikes at the foundation of all Pulmonary diseases, is without a rival as an expectorant, and is a sure cure for the most obstinate Coughs and Colds. L. Garrett, Texana, Texas, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twenty years. For throat and lung diseases, I consider it a wonderful remedy."

THE SINGLES OF PARTING.

An Experience in Rural Courtship.

The social etiquette that regulates the times young men will leave themselves away from the best girl in the city. When the clock hands swing around toward ten and the pretty maiden by his side reminds him of the fact, the city swain goes home. Not so the youth in the rural district. To- ward eleven o'clock his Jangle says: "You know what time it is, Ned Bangs?" "Course I do," he replies smartly.

"Well, I guess you'd better put out for home."

"What's the rush?"

"I'd say 'rush' if I were you, when it's most midnight."

"I don't care if it's most daylight."

"Well, I do, and you shan't stay here one second after midnight."

"Bet you a cookie I do."

"No, you shan't. I'll call on you if I don't."

"Oh yes, you will."

"You'll see."

"I'll risk it."

"Oh, you're perfectly horrid! Now, you get your hat and clear out!"

"Oh, please! you'd be mad if I did."

"You wretch! You've got to go right away for saying that."

"You don't say so."

"I do, too; and I—I—if you dare kiss me again!"

He dashes.

"Oh, oh, oh! You are the meanest fellow. I've a notion to box your ears."

"Box away!"

"When are you going home?"

"When I get a good ready."

"Pa'll start you if he comes in."

"He won't come in."

"Don't be too sure of that. If he finds the light he'll scold."

"Let's put it out!"

"No, you shan't! You'd better put your- self out."

"See if I do."

"You'll sit here with the cat then. I shan't keep you company."

"Pooh! A team of horses couldn't drag you away."

"Oh, you horrid, horrid thing!"

But it is midnight before he goes, all the same, and he hasn't had to sit with the cat either. There is much fun courting in the country.

WHAT IS SLANG?

Some Interesting Remarks on This Abuse of the Mother Tongue.

Slang is, in short, giving nicknames to things. "Mr. B." (says the report of the boat race) "tubbed the crews well and stroked them to lilly." Most persons acknowledge the absurdity of "awfully jolly," and of other similar freaks of boyish exuberance.

Young ladies, too, have a slang of their own. A small thing is "wee" or "tiny," a pretty thing is "bonny," the children at a school feast are a "goodly number," and they are "regaled" on tea and cake.

Slang is everywhere. Why should "big" be resented when we mean "large," "mighty" for "great"? What is gained by calling a panic "a scare," a folly "a craze," a hoax "a sell," a ship (or a soldier) "a liner," or by saying of a horse or watch, "It is a good goer," instead of say- ing, "it goes well?"

Even writers in the foremost rank are sometimes guilty of extraordinary soli- ciousness. The Addition in our day, in one of his charming novels, relates how his hero- ine had "laid awake all night." The elo- quent and accomplished painter in words describes how the "Dead Sea laid waveless beneath him." Dickens has lent his sanc- tion to "Our mutual friend." Phrases like these are plentiful: "the learned antiquarian," "whether or no," "equally as good as," "more preferable than," etc.

When those who lead the way offend thus, it is no wonder that an invalid, re- commending a coach, writes: "It is much luxuriant," or that a servant says, "The cup must be stood on a slab."

Mountain Tops and Ocean Depths.

As the result of his long research on the height of the land and the depth of the ocean, Mr. John Murray estimates the mean height of the land of the globe at 2,922 feet. He finds that 84 per cent. lies between the sea level and a height of 5,000 feet.

The mean depth of the ocean is 14,640 feet; only 42 per cent. of the waters lie be- tween the surface and a depth of 6,000 feet, while 58 per cent. of the ocean waters are between depths of 6,000 and 15,000 feet.

The total area of the dry land Mr. Murray makes to be 55,000,000 square miles, while that of the ocean is 137,300,000 square miles. The bulk of the dry land above the sea is 23,450,000 cubic miles, and the vol- ume of the waters of the ocean 823,800,000 cubic miles.

The amount of matter carried from the land each year in suspension and solution he estimates at 3.7 cubic miles; it would thus take 6,340,000 years to transport the whole of the solid land down to the sea. Should the whole of the solid land be re- duced to one level, the surface of the earth would be covered by an ocean with a uni- form depth of about two miles. The vol- ume of the whole sphere Mr. Murray estimates at 829,530,117,778 cubic miles. (Chi- cago News.)

A Superstition of the Washington Negroes.

Washington has a large black popula- tion, and it is amusing to notice their pe- culiarities or to come upon their superstitions.

"I lost my dog the other day," said a lady, "my little Skye—the plaster from the ceiling fell suddenly almost upon her head, and scared her so frighten- fully that she ran down stairs and then out into the street like a little mad thing. She showed that she was a pet and that she was lost almost immediately, and a keen-eyed man very soon discovered the fact. He picked her up and kept her two days, then he saw my advertisement and brought her back. I have been very good to her," said he. "I kept her with me every minute. All I've done was to cut a little hair from her back to sing and put on my finger—you see she bit me when I picked her up."

"I had heard before," continued the lady, "of being cursed with the hair of the dog that bit him, and always considered it an amusing superstition, and the beginning of homoeopathy, but I never came on it be- fore as an active principle." (Independent.)

The Right Use of Cobwebs.

"No, James," said a young wife, "I don't like that house we looked at. Why, there isn't a cobweb in the whole pantry."

"What do you want a cobweb in the pantry for?" asked her husband.

"Why, to hang the spiders on, to be sure." (Judge.)

For Artificial Grass.

Newsday—"What a charming figure Miss de Politz has."

Oldrunk—"She ought to be very proud of a tailor who can upholster like that."
